

A Guide to Being a Solopreneur: Turn Passion to Profit:

written by Vicky Barry | August 20, 2023

According to census records from 2020 roughly 6,000,000 individuals are what's known as the Solopreneur. That's literally 5% of the US workforce is a Lone Operator, and it's even higher in other countries. And that's not including people that are running single person businesses as a side gig. Solopreneurs are emerging as a dominant force in the worldwide marketplace today. These passionate individuals, driven by a unique vision and an unyielding work ethic, are redefining the landscape of modern business. But passion alone, while a powerful motivator, isn't always enough to ensure success. That's where tools like Selling Lane come into play, bridging the gap between passion and profit.

A solopreneur is an individual who establishes and operates a business on their own, rather than with partners or co-founders. Unlike entrepreneurs who might delegate responsibilities to a team or aim to scale their business with the addition of employees, Self-Employed Professionals prefer to run their business single-handedly. They handle every aspect of their business, from product development to marketing and customer service. The term "solopreneur" is derived from "solo" (meaning one person) and "entrepreneur" (a person who sets up a business or businesses).

The Solopreneur's Challenge

Being a Solo Founder is not without its challenges. You're the captain of your ship, responsible for every aspect of your business. From client acquisition to service delivery, from invoicing to marketing, the solopreneur wears many hats. The challenge? Ensuring that your passion project doesn't get lost amidst the myriad of business tasks.

Enter Selling Lane: The Solopreneur's Secret Weapon

Selling Lane is more than just a business tool; it's like making a small business owner's dream real. Here's how it happens:

1. Menu Selling: Also known as giving customers choices. Customers don't want to be bullied into buying things they want to be given choices, and being allowed to make their own decision. This is consultative selling and is one of the unique features of Selling Lane. Menu Selling, allows solopreneurs and team to present their services in an organized, appealing manner. It's not just about selling a service; it's about upselling and cross-selling, maximizing every client interaction.
2. Fast Invoicing and Link to Pay: Cash flow is king for the Lone Founder and accounting managers. Selling Lane's invoicing system is streamlined, intuitive, and designed to get you paid faster. No more chasing payments or getting lost in paperwork, with link to pay, the customer can pay the moment the invoice arrives. No more mailed checks or sending customers to collections and ruining your relationships.
3. Task Management: As a One-Person Business Owner, your to-do list is never-ending. My old boss used to call it in an amorphous mass of un-do-ability. But with Selling Lane's task management feature ensures that you stay on top of your tasks, never missing a deadline or forgetting a client meeting.
4. CRM Tailored for the Solopreneur: Selling Lane understands that as a Independent Business Owner, your relationship with your clients is personal. Their CRM is designed to nurture these relationships, ensuring repeat business and referrals.

Transforming Passion into Sustainable Profit

With Selling Lane, solopreneurs can focus on what they do best: delivering exceptional value to their clients. By handling the business side of things, Selling Lane ensures that your passion project remains profitable, sustainable, and enjoyable.
